

Abstract

Epithelial cell growth inhibitors differentially express in normal and cancerous epithelial cells. The ECGI proteins and nucleic acid sequence encoding them are useful in the diagnosis and treatment of epithelial cell cancers, for example prostate, ovarian, colon cancer, and the like.

5